

Relationships between classes

- In OOP it is common for objects of different classes to collaborate with each other.
- Objects interact with each other.
- e.g. an object needs to read something from the keyboard so it will use an object.

- There are mainly 3 types of Relationships:

- ① Composition
- ② Aggregation
- ③ Inheritance

- In a case study:

- step 1: Identify classes
- step 2: identify relationships